ARGYLL & BUTE

Who We Are

Communities Working Together is a partnership bringing organisations across Argyll and Bute together — including communities, the TSI, NHS Highland/HSCP, Macmillan and LiveArgyll. Established in 2022, we came together around a shared commitment: to shift how organisations work together to support and enable people to live a good life.

Our Aim

To harness the collective energy of local people to build stronger, more vibrant communities where everyone can live a good life.

Our Approach

We draw on ideas like systems thinking, co-production and community wealth building. We believe that working with people rather than for them leads to better and more lasting outcomes.
